White, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, of the Differences Between the Republic of Panama and the Republic of Costa Rica
Extracts from the Message of Mr. Rafael Iglesias, President of The Republic, addressed to the Constitutional Congress, May 1, 1901. With regard to our international relations, I must begin by making a statement concerning an important and transcendental subject, the result of which has been contrary to the hopes entertained by the Government and has re-echoed and made a deep impression throughout the country. I refer to the Arbitral Award which His Excellency N. Emile Loubet, President of the French Republic, rendered on September 11th of the year 1900, in the litigation about the boundary line between Costa Rica and Colombia. After long and careful investigations and great monetary sacrifices, Costa Rica succeeded in acquiring comprehensive and valuable documents relating to its territorial rights in dispute, and it was on these proofs and titles that Costa Rica based its defense and its hopes of...
